Line Thought Destroyed

Johnson City, Tenn., June 15. — Two more bodies of the 12 persons known to have been drowned in the double cloudburst late Friday night were recovered today, bringing the total found to five. Fully 2,000 persons from Elizabethton, Johnson City, and other towns in the vicinity of the flooded area, tonight were picking their way through debris along the banks of the Watauga and its tributaries searching for the remaining lost bodies.

A dozen towns and villages in the district believed to have been struck by the storm and which is now cut off from communication with the outside world, due to severance of telephone and telegraph wires and washed-out highways and railroads.

Unconfirmed reports from other sections told of persons missing and believed to be dead. Relief parties have started from Elizabethton and Hampton as well as from this city. Broken roads, however, prevented them penetrating farther than the outer edge except by primitive modes of travel.

Incomplete telephone reports from nearby points said the two towns had been wiped out.

About fifteen miles of the Laurel, Ferk railway from Hampton, Tenn., southeast, is believed to have been destroyed. This road was built by the Pittsburgh Lumber company, which has large operations in the stricken territory.

No word has been received from the mills and lumbering crews.

The East Tennessee & Western North Carolina railway was affected for several miles beyond Hampton.

Houses Swept Like Paper.

Damage and loss of life resulted when the mountain stream, swollen into fury, crashed and twisted farm houses, barns and livestock about like paper playthings.

Concrete bridges were tossed aside in the highways and the Appalachian division of the Southern railway is reported to have damaged between Elkhorn Springs and Mountain City.

Most of the houses and farms are in the valleys and lower lands. In the path of rising streams, which feed the Watauga and the Doe rivers.

SISTERS SEE MAN KILLED BY ROLLER COASTER TRAIN

Newark, N. J., June 15. — Many persons, including his two sisters, tonight saw Robert Jackson of Perth Amboy plunge to his death while standing up in a roller coaster in a local amusement park.

Jackson, witnesses say, was seated in the front car of a three-car train when he spied his sisters on the ground below. He stood up to attract their attention and at the same time the car took a dip, hurling him over the front to the tracks. The train passed over his body.

At the end of the ride the starter was notified. He turned off the power and while several of the other trains were perched at high elevations removed the body.

YOUTH RESCUES MAN FROM DEATH

Throws Man to Platform and Narrowly Escapes Being Hit by Subway Train

New York, June 15. — An old man who did not seem to be very strong toiled painfully up the steps to the express platform of the Pennsylvania subway station last night at 5:30 o'clock, carrying a heavy suitcase. He approached the downtown tracks, leaned over to see if a train was coming, and plunged head first to the rails just as a 12-car train came in sight traveling at full speed.

He got to his feet and tried to hoist himself back to the platform, but he did not have the strength, and fell back. Men and women began shouting for help, and the grinding of the brakes could be heard as the motor-man began the hopeless task of trying to stop the train before it hit the man.

But just when it seemed that nothing could avert a tragedy, a young man, tall and lean, jumped to the tracks. He grabbed the old man and the suitcase and with a mighty heave flung both to the platform with such strength that they knocked down several persons who were leaning forward. Then the young man put his hands on the edge of the platform and vaulted to safety, the front car of the train missing him by inches.

The young man picked up the old man and handed him his suitcase. Then he brushed his own clothing, got into a subway train and began to read a newspaper as calmly as if nothing had happened. Several persons tried to learn his name, but he refused to tell it, saying the incident "did not amount to anything."

One who saw the rescue and said that it was as daring a thing as he had ever seen was Brigette Tyler, manager of the Hotel Berkeley at 20 Fifth avenue.

Radicals Said to Have Threatened to Blow Up Morgue Containing 48 Mississippi Victims

(By the Associated Press)

San Pedro, Cal., June 15. — Threats to blow up the morgue containing bodies of 48 victims of last Thursday's explosion aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi, said by police to have been uttered by radicals, whose hall was raided and wrecked by sailors here last night, caused a strong armed guard of civilian and naval police to be thrown about the morgue today.

The guard was placed as the result of information given to Police Lieutenant Hollowell to the effect that members of the Industrial Workers of the World planned to dynamite the morgue in retaliation for the attack on their meeting place.

The raid was said to have grown out of disparaging remarks made by radicals about the three officers and 45 enlisted men who perished in the Mississippi's No. 2 turret when one of the turret's 14-inch guns "fired back" on its crew. Three girls, a boy, and a man were hurt in the affray.

Armed With Blot Guns.

Of the 50 men who participated in the I. W. W. raid, about half were in naval uniform. The boys and girls injured were scalded when the raiders overturned a coffee urn on them. The one man hurt received a scalp wound when he resisted the angry mob.

The raiders attacked with clubs; broke all windows in the meeting hall; tore down the doors, drove out the alleged I. W. Ws. and then carried the furniture to the street, where they made a bonfire of it.

While the guard of police and sailors maintained vigilant watch over the morgue during the early hours today, police officials launched an investigation to learn the identity of those behind the purported plot.

The sailors composing the guard were armed at police headquarters here with riot guns and rifles. They were commanded by Lieutenant J. N. Buchanan, senior patrol officer.

KIDNAPPING PLOT FAILS TO SUCCEED

Man Said to Have Admitted Writing Demand Letter Trapped Phoning Details

New York, June 15. — Robert Brady, 25, of Rockaway Beach, New York city, was held in $1,000 bail today by Magistrate Levine, charged with demanding $10,000 from Mrs. Archibald Stearns Wilson, wife of a magazine publisher, under threat of kidnapping her four-year-old son and "cutting his heart out" if the demands were not met.

Brady, who is an automobile salesman, will be arraigned Thursday. He was arrested after he stepped from a telephone booth after calling the Wilson home, on the result of a trap laid by police in co-operation with the telephone company. He is alleged to have written Mrs. Wilson a letter signed "Fred Rome—for the gang," in which he demanded the money and declared he would abduct her son and "send his heart back" if the money was not forthcoming.

Brady learned the child's name when he fished a ball out of a lake in Central park for him. He admitted writing the letter, police said, but declared he was "only fooling."

The prisoner telephoned to the Wilson home 13 different times, detectives said, giving different instructions each time as to where the money should be left.

WILLIAM BRENNEN SHOT AND KILLED IN HIS CABARET

Was Prominent Heavyweight Boxer—State Trooper, Going to Rescue, Shot in Neck and Dies in Hospital

New York, June 15. — William (Bill) Brennan, prominent heavyweight boxer, was shot and killed today in the Tia Juliana cabaret of which he was the proprietor. James Cullen, a State Trooper, was shot in the neck as he ran to Brennan's rescue. He died later in the hospital.

James Hughes and Frank Rasmel, believed to be two of a band of five who committed the killing, are under arrest.

Brennen was chatting with friends when Hughes, who is described as an unkempt individual with a prison record, asked the pugilist to step outside for a moment. Shots were heard almost immediately afterward.

Club Police Lieutenant Unconscious.

Brennen's sister, known on the stage as Shirley Sherman, told police she ran outside and saw five men, all of whom ran away when she appeared. She seized Hughes by the arm, but he broke free and ran.

Hughes, however, threw her to the floor. A bullet halted Cullen, who was close behind the girl. He staggered back into the cabaret and fell unconscious. Hughes and Rasmel became separated from their companions and turned up a corridor, the door of which was closed. Breaking the glass of the door with the butts of their pistols they walked into the arms of Police Lieutenant John Haggerty. They beat Haggerty into unconsciousness, commandeered a taxi-cab, and fled.

Two policemen, attracted by the firing, took up the chase in another taxi, and captured the pair after a breakneck drive. Both have served terms in prison, the police said. The band, according to the police, is a part of a "Hell's Kitchen" gang, who have apparently borne a grudge against the pugilist for some time.

Paris, June 15. — The death blow to the corset is claimed to have been dealt by a small group of Paris style creators who have decided that the fashion of the world. They say the corset is doomed to share the fate of the hoop skirt and the bustle.

The new silhouette which will appear during the grand prix this month, according to the stylists, will make it absolutely impossible to wear corsets. The style dictators combine with corsets and the masculine in women's styles generally are pointed to as responsible for making the corset obsolete for the 1924 season.

Following the natural lines of a narrow bodice and moderately short, clinging skirt. Fashion dictators declare it is tending to greater coolness, comfort and an more hygienic silhouette than any of the previous years.

Chelsea, Mass., June 15. — A woman is dead, three children are believed to be dying and three other persons were injured in a collision of two automobiles here tonight. One car, with a policeman on the running board, was speeding to a fire alarm box from which a boy had just sent in a false alarm.

At the corner at which the box is located they were in collision with another machine operated by James Kintz of Malden.

The Minch car was forced upon the sidewalk into the crowd of women and children which had collected and through a store window.

FIVE BOATS AND LIQUOR SECURED

12 Prisoners Also Taken—Chasers Forced to Fire One-Pounder into One Ship

New York, June 15. — Five boats, $57,600 worth of liquor, and 12 prisoners were the prizes reported today by the coast guard and the customs marine patrol as the result of the week-end activities off Sandy Hook and New London, Conn. They told of a pursuit during which one-pound shells were fired at the high powered yacht Rosedale, said to have been owned once by the Astor family.

The Rosedale was sighted while making 30 knots an hour off Sandy Hook early Saturday by a coast guard cutter. The cutter fired two shots from her one-pounder over the Rosedale's bow, but the yacht failed to stop. Thereupon a shell was sent through the engine room and another through the port bow.

The Rosedale surrendered immediately, was boarded by coast guard officers, and her crew of three men arrested.

There were three names on the list of the Rosedale, John Edson and Joseph Ferguson, both of Perth Amboy, N. J.

The other craft seized were made Saturday off New London. They are the sloop Sigma, with 2,000 gallons of grain alcohol on board; the motor boat Nora, with 500 cases of whiskey; the motorboat Pal, with 500 cases of whiskey; and the abandoned motor skiff K-5717, with 50 cases of whiskey.

SUSPECT IN MAIL ROBBERY SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

EXPECT QUICK CONCLUSION

Police Believe They Are on Track of Remainder of Band — "Inside" Man Sought

Chicago, June 15. — An alleged confession of a suspect, identification of others, and information found in letters taken from them, guided city, state and federal authorities in their investigation today of the $1,000,000 registered mail robbery Thursday night when four automobile loads of bandits held up a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train a few miles from here.

Twenty $1,000 bills, some of which, according to federal officials, were identified as coming from the registered pouches, were found in possession of James H. Watson, arrested late last night when he came to the flat where previously detectives had taken J. H. Wayne, identified as a bandit shot during the robbery. Paul Wade, Tulsa, Okla., aviator Walter McComb and James Mahoney, Federal warrants, charging robbery of the mails, have been issued for the last four.

Acting on information obtained from Wayne, wounded five times and near death, detective squads were dispatched today to definite localities to search for the loot, which they hoped to recover nearly intact. Confidence that they were following the right leads and would "clear up the affair in short order" was expressed by Morgan Collins, police chief, and Martin Hughes, detective chief.

Poses Searching for Band.

"We have four of the bandits under arrest," Chief Hughes said, after the federal warrants were issued to forestall habeas corpus proceedings in the state courts for the suspects' release.

Poses Searching for Band.

Police of Chicago, Milwaukee and all intermediate cities, the secret service and several detective agencies are working on the case, and poses are searching all the roads and resorts.

The leaders of the band were familiar with the use of gas masks and treasure coach, one of them remarked to the engineer:

"We ain't going to wait 20 years for our bonus."

Confederate on "Inside" Sought.

That it was the result of an inside tip is considered certain. A confederate employed in the Federal Reserve bank or the post office is being sought. The robbery was conducted with military precision, and not a slip occurred until Wayne rose up from the grass. Immediately another of the robbers shot him four times. His disobedience of orders will cost him his life.

The man who planned the robbery had a thorough knowledge of railroad signals, the routine of railroad orders and the workings of a locomotive. The hold-up was the work of experts in every particular.

MOVE TO MAKE MERCHANT MARINE AMERICAN-MANNED

Washington, June 15. — The next step in plans to give the United States an American-managed merchant marine has been taken by the Shipping board under a legislative plan to place boys between the ages of 18 and 25 years on commercial ships crews. The boys will be able to work their way to overseas berths through an arrangement by an industrial relations division of the Shipping board working in conjunction with its sea service bureau.

Under the plan, detailed instructions of which have been sent to fleet corporation district directors on the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf coasts, two deck boys will replace one ordinary seaman on all of the government's merchant vessels and will receive a thorough training and be given examination for higher ratings.

The boys, who must be American born or naturalized, will be paid $25 a month and receive the customary subsistence. As an ordinary seaman averages $750 a month, the total crew payroll will be increased only $250 a month, the total cost for all ships with the plan in full operation being estimated at $250,000 a year.

UNITED STATES INCREASES POPULATION BY 1,943,000

New York, June 15. — The population of the United States increased 1,943,000 during 1923, according to estimates announced today by the National Bureau of Economic Research. On January 1, 1924, the total population was 112,824,000, the bureau's figures show.

In the latter half of 1923, a net increase of 1,552,000 was recorded. This was the greatest growth for a six-month period in the nation's history, the bureau's report states.

The unusual increase is attributed to the heavy excess of immigration over emigration and the lowest death rate which has prevailed during a similar period in this country.

AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

MAN ON 3RD—1 OUT

DON'T SACRIFICE!

With a man on third would you sacrifice with one man out? Why?

Answered by FRANK FRANCH

Second baseman, New York Giants. His timely hitting has made him known as "the game wrecker." Likes second sack in the National League.

Some teams use SQUEEZE PLAY in this situation.

In such a case the batter should always try for a safe hit or else a long fly to the outfield in order to have the man on third score without any danger of being thrown out by an outfielder catching the ball. Some teams would use the squeeze play in this case. If the infield should be playing back and the batter sees this is a chance of bunting the ball safely, the bunt would be a good play to make sure of the run.

Ekstein's Single to Ninth With Two Out and Mohawk Athletics Ahead Starts Hitting Rally Which Wins Contest as Utica, 11 to 7.

The ninth inning, Oneonta at bat with the score 7 to 6 in favor of the opposition. Ekstein, with the count three balls and no strikes, allows a high foul into the air. The spectators prepare to leave the grounds as Ekstein hits himself for the catch. The ball hits the catcher's glove and drops through his fingers and falls to the ground, carrying with it the hopes of the Mohawk Athletics to win the game. Ekstein saved so to speak, just as the trap was about to fall. Ekstein takes a strider grip on the high-ory and crashes out a single, starting a batting rally that does not end until five runs are across the plate.

Such was the thrilling finish of the game at Utica yesterday between the Oneonta Giants and the Mohawk Athletics, the re-organized Utica K. of C. team. Luck, perhaps—but such breaks are part of the great game, a part that give it much of its attraction. Yet, perhaps there was a horse-shoe in Ekstein's hand, but he knew how to hit the mark with it when the right moment arrived and his teammates knew how to follow up the advantage offered them.

The game was an interesting one to watch from start to finish, the lead saw sawing back and forth. The Giants fielded the ball in nearly perfect fashion and hit like a pack of demons. Seventeen hits bounced off their war clubs into the batting average column, strengthening it considerably after the slump of last week.

Oneonta started off like a whirlwind and before Steitwater twirling for the Athletics, could get steam up he had been nicked for three runs, all made on clean hitting. Wilcox started off the frame with a double and scored when Fitch singled over second. Harner came through with a double and Fitch trotted in. With Ekstein away, Roche made the fourth hit and the third double of the inning, scoring Harner. That's all there was to that but it was plenty enough to put a great fear in the hearts of the supporters of the Utica team.

Steitwater tightened up considerably and until the seventh Oneonta could do little with his offerings. In that stanza three more runs came across. Wilcox put a grounder past second for a single and was sacrificed, scoring Fitch. Harner singled, scoring Fitch. Harner came in on Ekstein's triple and the old man trotted in when Boylan slashed a single into left.

The Athletics, who had tied the count in the third with three runs and gone ahead in the fourth with two more, equalled things up again in their half of the seventh and went out ahead by one run in the eighth. When Oneonta went to bat in the ninth a run was needed to tie and two to win.

The frame started out in gloomy fashion. Fitch fled out to left and Steitwater popped up to second. Two out the game seemed lost. Then the unexpected happened. With the count three balls to no strikes Ekstein shot a foul fly into the air and McBride muffed it. Encouraged by his good fortune Ekstein ripped out a single. Roche repeated the trick. Boylan made it three in the ninth by slugging a scratch single over second and Ekstein stopped the beating of Utica hearts with a single, scoring Roche with the winning counter.

Just to put the game on ice Oneonta scored three more before the third man was out. Sinstack hit a hot liner to center field who muffed it and Boylan came in. Lobee and Sinstack were scored by Walsh's long double between left and center.

HIGH SCHOOL ENDS SEASON

Yellow and White Nine Take Thrilling Contest From Hartwick Seminary Saturday, 14-12—Team Meeting.

The Oneonta High school baseball team closed the present season at Neekwa park on Saturday by taking a thrilling and hard fought contest from Hartwick Seminary, to whom they lost a week ago, by a score of 14-12. Beginning the last half of the ninth Hartwick lead by a score of 12-10, but the Yellow and White nine seemed to have at last grasped the spirit of a ninth inning rally and four runs were pushed across the rubber.

A feature which ranked with the rally of the locals was that made by the Seminary when in the sixth inning seven runs were scored on four doubles, a single, error, walk, bases on balls and a hit batsman.

The game was perhaps more loosely played than have been any others of the locals, perhaps their handicap due to lack of practice accounting for the fact. With the rainy weather of this spring the team has been particularly unfortunate still the team has made a very good showing for the first one in nearly a decade, and the prospects for next year appear to be bright.

Following is the score by innings and the tabulated story of Saturday's game, and the batting averages of the Yellow and White players for the season:

The claimants appealed to the appellate division from the order of Judge Howard and the appellate division unanimously affirmed the opinion of Judge Howard. During the time the matter was being heard in the courts the present commission remained inactive until the decision was handed down recently and they will now commence re-hearing the claim.

The ship was crowded and uncomfortable, and the food was poor. The ship was crowded and uncomfortable, and the food was poor.

Naturally every one was terrified at the thought of the high seas and the possibility of which Norman... A set of resolutions were drawn up concerning the committee for the poor management, and stating that unless conditions in Antwerp were better the team would go so far as to compete in the Olympic games. Our arrival at Antwerp in the evening, the officer in charge declared that no one (but the Olympic made to meet the demands of modern canning methods

TESTED jar rubbers!
Think what that means — no more bulging rubbers, no blowing out, no drying up. In place of the old uncertainty and anxiety, you have security against loss!

Stretch and "set" are the two things a jar rubber must do if you are to have an airtight seal. It must stretch just enough to slip easily over the neck of the jar. If it has too much stretch it will not snap back to its original size. Once in place it must "set," grip firmly the neck of the jar and make an airtight seal for your pack.

"U. S." Jar Rubbers come to you thoroughly tested for stretch and "set." They are made by the United States Rubber Company — largest rubber organization in the world — from high-grade rubber grown on the company's own plantations in Sumatra.

Before they leave the factory "U. S." Jar Rubbers are tested for all these qualities which enable them to meet every demand of modern canning.

Ask your dealer for "U. S." Jar Rubbers.

IMPORTANT NOTES ON CANNING

Cook hard fruits, such as hard pears, under ripe peaches, pineapple, sweet apples, quinces, etc., in a small amount of water, or steam them until tender before placing them in a heavy syrup. Little fruits are not treated in this way, the preservative will be hard and tough instead of plump and tender.

Pack the fruit firmly in clean, tested jars to within one-half inch of the top. Pack tightly, covered or covered with the care given toward the center of the jar. Fill the jars with boiling syrup or hot water.

Cherries that are not desirable for canning may make good juice for use as a beverage or in fruit pies and gelatin desserts.

FRESH AIR WORK BEGINS

Rotarians Start Initiative Campaign to Provide Vacation for Poor Children in New York.

Territories in Otsego and Delaware counties have been assigned to each member of the Rotary Club and the men have already begun the work of finding vacation homes for the 150 children it is planned to bring up from New York city this summer to enjoy two weeks of happiness such as they have never known before. The Tribune Fresh Air Fund will select the children in New York city and send them to Otsego; the Rotary Club will secure places for them and see that they get to and from their vacation homes.

Hosts for the 194 children entertained in this section last year will be willing to provide bed and board and a little kindness for one or more kiddies this year. Those who have entertained children in past years have found it a work of pleasure and no regret. To them it has seemed that the work provides its own reward in the consciousness of well doing, in the gratitude of the children and, above all, in the realization through observation of how boys and girls blossom and flower under the sunshine of the fresh air vacation which they have made possible.

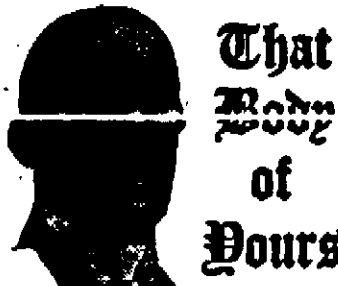

No effort will be made to canvass the city of Oneonta and any citizens who wish to take children into their homes for the two week period are asked to communicate with C. C. Miller, chairman of the Rotary club fresh air committee, or Rev. L. Curtis Denney, secretary of the club.

GRADUATES OF HAMILTON

Schenectady and Oneonta Boys Receive Degrees This Morning.

Stuart T. Brown, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Brownell of this city, will be graduated this morning from Hamilton college at Clinton. During his four year course Mr. Brownell has been prominent in many lines of college activity. He was on the varsity soccer team for four years, not missing participation in a single game during that period. Dr. and Mrs. Brownell are in Clinton to see their son graduate and the former to attend the 40th reunion of the class of 1884, of which he was a member. Several members of the class were back for the reunion, including some who came considerable distances to mingle with the "boys" they had known so intimately nearly a half century ago.

Another member of the graduating class at Hamilton this year is George L. Nesbitt of Schenectady. Mr. Nesbitt, who has won many honors at Hamilton was a contestant Saturday evening in the 69th annual Clark Prize exhibition, a speaking contest to participate in which is a considerable honor and to win which is one of the most highly prized undergraduate honors. Mr. Nesbitt was appointed to the contest through his excellent work in public speaking and writing during his college course.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Bates, M.D.

WHY THE WARNING?

A patient once said to his physician, "Why do you warn many of your patients about overeating? Surely the stomach, liver, intestines and the other organs of digestion are all the better for working, because they get so much to do, it must actually strengthen them."

The physician said: "I advise my patients to refrain from overeating for a number of reasons. If they are young I want to prevent attacks of indigestion with the consequent pain."

If they are in their young manhood or womanhood, to prevent the above troubles and to prevent overweight.

In middle age and older people, because there is so much excess waste that the blood actually carries some of it to the walls of the arteries, which, becoming slightly inflamed, lose some of their elastic tissue. This elastic tissue is replaced by fibrous tissue, and the vessel becomes hard instead of soft and yielding. This means actual "age" to you, because your arteries tell your age.

But there is one final big reason that I don't tell about, because they wouldn't believe it, if I did tell them. The more a man eats, the less he wants to work or exercise.

This is so true that he'd only eat and if it were pointed out to him, he'd say, "I don't want to."

The very act of taking on board more food than you need means that you are going to feel a bit sluggish for a considerable time after meals. (Just for a short time after meals is quite all right.)

This sluggishness in itself means that you'll have no desire to do manual work or take any exercise. Further, as you grow heavier, every little bit of exertion means more effort on your part than that of a slimmer person, and so you save yourself all you can.

Every move is an effort, and so you refuse to move.

Now, one of the joys of life is eating. If your food doesn't look or taste good to you, there's something wrong with you, that's all. It's a sign of health to have a good appetite and to be able to enjoy everything that is placed on the table.

But nature expects you to work and good appetite, to use up that food is part of it.

The only way any development comes is by use. Your muscles will get no development unless they are used.

And so, when a healthy fellow like you eats a great quantity of food, and your muscular system is not worked to use up the food, then the food is deposited in the form of fat in, on, and around all the tissues and organs of the body.

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

Oneonta wool buyers say that sheep raising is, as an industry, fast declining in Otsego county. Fifteen to twenty years ago the annual production of wool from fifty to sixty thousand pounds of wool. This season the amount bought by local dealers will not exceed ten thousand pounds. The principal reason for the falling off is the growth of dairy farming.

Clarence McMinna, who has been a faithful employee at the post office for some time, has resigned his position and will enter the Normal in the fall.

The Oneonta street railway sells 25 tickets for a dollar. Buy a package and enjoy the cool breezes of Oneonta canyon with your friends. If you do not get the worth of your money, T. D. Tallmadge, the treasurer of the company will refund same.

A new mineral spring has been found at Waller park, at East End, and yesterday it was piped to the bridge that crosses the outlet of the lake. It is very pleasant and cold and has an abundant flow and tastes very similar to Waukesha water which sold everywhere on the World's fair grounds for a cent a glass.

NOW FOR THE NEXT BIG ACT

IMPORTANT TO TAXICAB MEN

More than 20,000 owners of taxicabs or automobiles for hire operate in New York city and will be affected by the provisions of the Joint bill passed by the last legislature, which requires that every automobile operated for hire on the highways or streets of the state of New York must be covered by a bond or policy of insurance in an amount not less than $2,500. The law is effective July 1 and merely extends to the entire state the same requirements that have prevailed in Greater New York, Buffalo and Rochester for the past several years.

The law was the subject of much discussion during the last session, its sponsors arguing that it filled a long felt want for the protection of the pedestrian, the owners of private cars and those riding in taxicabs; the chief contention being that a considerable percentage of the ownership of upstate cars offered for hire is beyond the law as to the actual payment of damages to the same extent as is the case in cities of the first class.

The law provides that these policies of insurance or bonds must be filed with the commissioner of motor vehicles on or before July 1 in order to legally use the vehicle for hire anywhere in the state after midnight of June 30. Failure to comply with the law in this respect will make the registration plates issued for the vehicle subject to revocation.

There is a happy end to the man of peace—45. 27:27.

Enough is not as good as a feast. —45. 27:27.

There is something marvellous and satisfying in the art of leaving off. Good advice is infinitely more potent when it is brief and earnest than when it dribbles into vague exhortations.

Many a man has been carried into the by well-meant but wearisome admonitions to be virtuous. A single word of true friendly warning or encouragement is more eloquent than volumes of nagging pertinacity, and may safely be spoken and left to do its work.

After all, when we are anxious to help a friend into the right path, there is not much more of better that we can say than what Sir Walter Scott said, when he was saying to his son-in-law, Lockhart:

"Be a good man, my dear, be a good man."

The life must say the rest. We often fancy, in this world, that beautiful and pleasant things would be better if they could be continued without change, forever. We regret the ending of a good day off.

The libretto is a revised version of the one that appeared in 1916 and has only recently been released for amateur presentation. BOY SCOUT RALLY HELD

Three Hundred Members of Oneonta-Schoharie County Assembly, in Oneonta-Cherry Valley Troop of Boy Scouts Took the Lead Over Others in Winning Majority of Votes in First Council Rally Held Saturday—Interest General and Many Spectators at Fair Grounds.

The first annual rally of the Oneonta-Schoharie Boy Scout council was held in this city on Saturday with more than 300 Scouts representing every troop but four in the county actively participating. The delegation of spectators from throughout the county was also large and their interest rivaled closely that of the Scouts.

Cherry Valley carried off a majority of the honors, with Morris, a troop of only ten boys, running second. Just to prove that numbers did not count compared with practice, Oneonta with three troops represented and Cooperstown with four, failed to take a single vote.

The program of the day started off with a parade of all the Scouts, headed by Keeton's band of this city, and with Committeeman M. G. Keenan as marshal, through the business section of the city, marching across Walnut street, down Church and back to the fair grounds, the use of which was kindly given by the association for the field day, by way of Main street.

But of course the highlight of the parade, an hour and a half was allotted to this necessary test, which was not at all too long, though in most cases enough. The real was excellently prepared by Albert Winn of this city, and was topped off with a liberal supply of Purley ice cream which was donated by the Oneonta Ice Cream company.

Back at the fair grounds from the parade, the council forces lined up for the opening exercises. David Forester Wilber, Jr. presented the council colors to the council as the first man quite evidently enjoyed fully as well as did the members of the council. The "Star Spangled Banner" was then rendered by Keeton's band and the pledge to the flag and the Scout oath given by all the Scouts.

Events of the Afternoon.

The program of events for the afternoon was divided into two parts, individual and troop events. In the first group the scores were as follows: Cherry Valley, 20; Morris, 13; Cobleskill, 8; Schenectady, 2; and Worcester, 1.

Following is the order in which the various troops finished in the various events: Dressing and undressing race, Cherry Valley, Morris, Worcester; horse and rider contest, Cobleskill, Cherry Valley and Schoharie; first aid obstacle race, Morris, first and Cherry Valley second and third; antelope race, Cherry Valley, Cobleskill and Schenectady; and axe contest, Morris and Cherry Valley.

As a result of this portion of the events, Cherry Valley received a large troop flag, Morris a small troop flag and Cobleskill a Scout pennant.

In the second part of the program Cherry Valley won the Infantry drill competition and was awarded a Scout pennant. In the tug of war, Cherry Valley again captured first place and a Scout pennant, while Cobleskill, which finished second, secured a pair of signal flags.

Cobleskill took part in the building contest, and won another pair of signal flags, with Cherry Valley and Schenectady finishing in order.

The rally was successful in every way and much credit is due the committee of the council on the rally, and to Scout Executive Louis A. Hornbeck, under whose direction the day was, and who worked steadily for several weeks on the proposition.

Certainly the rally will prove more attractive next year, which is indeed a gratifying result, and in spite of the fact that it will probably be held outside of Oneonta, large delegations from this city may confidently be expected.

FLAG DAY LUNCHEON

Annual D. A. R. Affair Held Saturday at Country Club.

The annual Flag Day luncheon of the Oneonta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Saturday at the Country Club. About 50 ladies were present. Following the luncheon an interesting program was given.

The first number, "Passage of the Birds," a duet by the Misses Anne Waters and Vida Cooke, with Mrs. Don G. Lull as accompanist, was beautifully rendered and the ladies generously responded with an encore. Miss Lamb, a student at the Normal school, read a monologue, "Victory Tea," and a second selection. Both were greatly enjoyed by the ladies. Miss Waters then sang two solos, with Mr. Lull as accompanist. The program was delightful and the afternoon was a great pleasure to the ladies present.

Dorr S. Ludlam Settles Both Claims for Amount Named.

Residents of this section will recall the sad accident in which Mrs. Dorris S. Ludlam, confidential clerk of Justice A. L. Kellogg of this city and Attorney Walter Scott of Davenport lost their lives at a grade crossing near Canandaigua.

On the trial of the action for the death of Mrs. Ludlam against the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Canandaigua a year ago a verdict of $15,000 was rendered. An appeal to the appellate division resulted in the verdict being unanimously affirmed.

Mr. Ludlam sustained serious injuries and his action was about to be brought on for trial when a proposal for settlement was made. Both actions have now been settled, the railroad company paying $29,300. Miller, Matteson & Quinn of Syracuse represented Ludlam both as administrator and in his individual action for personal injuries.

ELKS HONOR OLD GLORY

"Where the People Can Express, Such the Honor of All Things Voted, It is Honoring with the History of a Cause That Cannot Die."

In accordance with the nation wide custom of the fraternity, Oneonta lodge of Elks held Saturday evening in the magnificent lodge room of its home appropriate flag day ceremonies and so how beautiful and inspiring were they that those held in former years and still remembered by all who witnessed them. The public had been invited to the exercises and those in attendance included not only a goodly number of members but many other citizens as well.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Elks' Glee club, followed by impressive introductory exercises by the officers of the lodge. Prayer by Chaplain Judge was followed by the History of the Flag by Dr. George J. Dann. After speaking somewhat of the origin of the Stars and Stripes and of the glorious achievements accomplished under its folds, Dr. Dann gave the beautiful tribute of the order to the flag.

The singing of Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean, by the audience preceded the altar service by the officers of the lodge, which was concluded with Auld Lang Syne by the officers and members. Several selections by the Glee club preceded the address of the evening by Rev. J. A. Judge.

Capitain Judge began his masterly address with a remarkable tribute to the "flag that tops the world," following which he discussed the cost in lives and treasure of that bit of bunting which the whole country was honoring that day. Those "non-resisters" who are carrying their pacifist ideas to the point where they are securing pledges that they take under no circumstances to bear arms in time of war were roundly scored by Capitain Judge. He stated that he has seen the horrors of two conflicts and held no brief for war but that he would prefer lingering death on the battlefield to life under foreign rule or to national dishonor of any sort.

The speaker paid a high tribute to the womanhood of the nation and said that in the past mothers had been proud to raise sons to defend the flag and the honor of their country. That they would continue so to do was his prayer and his conviction.

The flag is big enough to cover all of us, Capitain Judge said, and we must labor mightily to keep it flying high. He urged his hearers to consider seriously the principles for which it stands, such as liberty and respect for law and duly constituted authority and to strive to uphold those principles.

LADY ANN AT M. E. CHURCH

Distinguished Armenian Noblewoman Makes Earnest Plea for Starving Children—City Asked to Raise $5,000.

Lady Ann Agapetian, who has touched the hearts of many Oneontans during her brief stay in the city with her graphic recitals of conditions in the Near East and of the needs of the starving children of Armenia, touched the high spot of her campaign when she addressed a large congregation at the First Methodist church last evening.

Lady Ann said that her child, born on the battlefield during the awful days a few years back and now in the care of an Armenian woman who lost her own in the massacres, lived because she gave it her heart's blood. No such sacrifice as she made is necessary to save the lives of the Armenian babies now. Seventeen cents a day or $50 a year will do it.

Following Lady Ann's splendid talk Rev. Dr. John W. Flynn, pastor of the church, spoke in earnest commendation of the Near East Relief campaign and in exhortation of its support. He stated that in his opinion there should be a permanent organization in the city to follow up the work already done and to make special campaigns in Oneonta's unnecessary.

Miss Dorothy Meadows, Lady Ann's manager, stated last evening that it was the hope of Lady Ann that 50 children could be assured of food for a year as a result of her week's work here. This number, at 50 cents a week, would bring to $2,500 what the city is asked to raise. Robert Hall at the Wilber National bank is treasurer of the local committee and all contributions should be sent to him.

Miss Meadows stated that the conference at the Community house today is not alone for the members of the local committee. All who are interested in the good work are urged to be present.

Lutheran Church to Install Organ.

At a special congregational meeting of the Lutheran Church of the Atonement held yesterday it was decided to install in the church edifice as soon as possible a new two manual pipe organ, and it is thought that the contract will be let in a short time.

The attendance at the meeting was good and much enthusiasm was expressed in the venture. It is hoped that the organ will be ready for use in the early fall, certainly before October 1.

Sergeant Jones Confined to Home.

Sergeant Morton J. Jones of the Oneonta Police department is confined to his home at 15 Cedar street under the care of Dr. Smith. When asked regarding his condition last evening, Dr. Smith said that he was resting comfortably and that he hoped Mr. Jones would soon be about the street as usual.

A LUNCHEON CONFERENCE

Members of Near East Relief Committee Meet This Morning at St. James' Parish House.

The members of the Near East Relief committee are asked to meet for a luncheon conference on Monday at 12:15 o'clock in St. James' parish house. Invitations have been extended to all former members of the committee and to all presidents of organized groups. If the president cannot attend it is hoped that someone will be appointed to represent the organization in the place of the president.

All who have heard Lady Ann Agapetian have felt the eager desire to help in some way the children, 50,000 of them still in the Near East Relief orphanages. This conference is to determine in what way the response of Oneonta to Lady Ann Agapetian's appeal can best be made.

Miss Dorothy Meadows of the New York state office will be present and will tell of the way in which other communities where Lady Ann has spoken have worked out their answer. Miss Meadows has been associated with Lady Ann personally and intimately for three years. Lady Ann is continuing her speaking engagements and is now in Philadelphia but Miss Meadows will remain in Oneonta for the present, making her home at 5 Walling avenue, phone 1049-W.

NORWICH WOMAN SUICIDES

Body of Mrs. Wm. S. Everham Found in Chaguan River Sunday Evening—Missing Since Friday Noon.

Norwich, June 15. — At 9:30 Sunday evening searchers found in the Chaguan river here the body of Mrs. William S. Everham, who disappeared from her home here at about 11 o'clock Friday morning, while in the midst of preparing the noon-day meal for her husband, who arrived home from his work as chief engineer at the Norwich Pharmacal company shortly after 12 o'clock, to find the meal partially prepared and the wife gone. After an hour's search he notified the police of her disappearance.

Since that time a continuous search has been in progress, participated in by the local police, boys from the Boy Scouts and scores of friends of the family. Mrs. Everham was last seen after 11 o'clock about the grounds of Mr. Hope cemetery. Every inch of land about that cemetery was combed and the water drawn from two artificial lakes in the expectation of finding the body. The blood hounds of A. W. Walling of Oneonta were brought here late Friday afternoon and were put on the track of the woman that evening. They followed the scent to the cemetery and about the grounds, but lost it in the cemetery and were unable to pick it up at the place where she left the cemetery.

The coat worn by Mrs. Everham was found this afternoon on the small island in the river. It had been neatly folded and placed under some bushes. Small foot prints led from the spot to the water's edge. Searching parties equipped with powerful searchlights located the body in the river about a mile and a half below this village at the hour named.

Mrs. Everham was a woman of 55 years and had been in poor health for several years and since the death of an only son a few years ago had been subject to fits of despondency. No arrangements for the funeral have been made.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED

Charles G. Hovey of Amsterdam, Driver of Car in Which Edward W. Walters Was Killed, Given Bail.

Charles G. Hovey, an employee of Palmater's garage at Amsterdam, the driver of the car in which Edward W. Walters of Worcester, formerly of this city, was killed on Saturday, June 7, near Schenectady, was held by Justice James R. Macdonald of Schenectady for the grand jury under the charge of manslaughter in the second degree, it being alleged that the defendant was driving a motor car while intoxicated, causing the death of his companion, Walters.

The case was before Justice Kellogg on Saturday in the matter of bail. It was fixed at $2,000 and bond was presented and approved.

LEAVES SOON FOR EUROPE.

Mr. G. W. Fairchild, who has been in Oneonta for several days looking after matters in this city, left yesterday morning for New York city, where important business occupies most of his time.

Mr. Fairchild, who is chairman of the Board of Directors of the International Business Machines company, will sail via the Lancastria of the Cunard line for Europe. He is accompanied by President Watson of the same company, the principal business of the trip being in Paris, where the company has purchased a building for its sales office, and in Germany, where a new factor has lately been opened for the production of the various lines of goods.

On Saturday of this week the I. B. M. company will open the new building which it has lately erected on the board walk in Atlantic City, N. J. In connection with the event a dinner will be given at which Mr. Fairchild will be the guest of honor; and outside of the officials of the company the only other guests will be men who for twenty-five years have been affiliated with different branches of the company business.

The Atlantic City building is for the convenient exhibition of the extensive line of company goods, which has become very large outside the commonly known line of its products. In that well known summer and winter resort many conventions attended by business men are annually held, and the new building will give opportunity conveniently and satisfactorily to exhibit these goods to men associated with big business.

Many residents of Oneonta and vicinity, who are financially interested with the Business Machines company, will be interested to know that, despite a quite general depression in business circles, the I. B. M. has had a very satisfactory season, the figures to this time showing a substantial increase in every department over the same months of last year.

DREAMER OF DREAMS

HOW VISION OF DAVID WAS COMMUNICATED IN TEMPLE AT JERUSALEM

The story of how under divine guidance dreams came true. A sermon with few equals and probably no superiors in the history of the Oneonta Normal was delivered yesterday afternoon at the school auditorium before the class of 1924 by Rev. Dr. Richard Earle Locke, pastor of the Madison avenue reformed church of Albany. Owing to the late hour of the service, the attendance was not as large as in some other years, but the message, but those townsfolk and visitors who, with the normal graduating class and undergraduates were present had the pleasure of listening to an address reverent in tone, sincere in utterance, thoughtful in expression and without frightened with desire to leave with the audience an inspiration to work for the good of humanity in the world.

The exercises of the afternoon began with "Light of the World," sung as a procession by the school. The scripture lesson from I Chronicles 29, was read by Rev. L. C. Denney, rector of St. James' church, and a solo from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul" was sung by Miss Esther Greene of the Normal faculty. Prayer was offered by Dr. James C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church and a second number from the Mendelssohn masterpiece, "How Lovely Are the Messengers," was given by the school chorus, following which Dr. Locke was introduced by Principal Hughes as the preacher of the day.

Taking as his text the words found in I Chronicles, xix: 18, "O Lord, the God of our fathers, keep this forever in the imagination of the thoughts of the hearts of Thy people," the speaker, after a few words relative to God's handwork as shown in the beautiful valley of the Susquehanna, a part of which in coming to Oneonta he had for the first time traversed, announced his theme as "Cherishing the Dream," following with a sermon which to the class of young people now going out into the active work of the world, was in every way applicable.

All of us have dreamed he said, not visions of the night, but dreams and imaginings by day in which we have been rich beyond the dreams of avarice. These dreams have not been fulfilled, nor was the dream of David, who in the building of the temple at Jerusalem failed to see his highest ambitions realized. He did not see embodied in marble and precious stones and ivory his conception of the beauty and bounty of God. It was to have been the greatest reminder of the beauty of God, and his hope was to see the realization. This, however, could not be because he was a man of war and his hands were red with blood. Yet, although the accomplishment was not to be his, he brought the leaders to keep in mind the unfulfilled dream; and God approved of him because, being a faithful failure, he kept the vision in his heart.

The house of one's soul is the temple of his life, and our work is to contribute to the building of the temple of God in the heart and in the world. Joseph was a dreamer, who dreamed of a sublime accomplishment, "America, Salomon's" was a slogan of 1892, and now it is only 1924. "A Warless World" is a part of our modern dream. Who shall say that this thing, along with great material achievements which the last half century has witnessed, is not to be part of our dreams come true, and who would not willingly enlist under this banner of dreams?

Appropos of Flag day, only one day before, he made striking reference to the standard of our nation and what it typifies. "The white in the flag," he said, "is the vision of our fathers. The red is the blood of sacrifice shed in consummation of that dream. The blue is the emblem of home and heaven. Our fathers dreamed one hundred forty-seven years ago of a free country, and the larger world pronounced the vision ridiculous, absurd, impractical. Yet today England's premier is a crofter, Italy's premier is a blacksmith and the head of the German government is a soldier. In this short period of time is reckoned the dreams of the fathers have been fulfilled.

"Two thousand years the greatest dreamer of them all, Jesus of Nazareth, visioned a nobler world so clearly that it is an accomplished fact, even though the blood of sacrifice paid for that dream.

"Are you dreaming of what you will do, working with God for the building of new heavens and a new earth? Have you visions of giving something by your own efforts, which shall be an accepted stone in the temple of God? We have about us all the material which is needed to make new Edens. May we use it faithfully, and may God fulfill for us the prayer of David, which was that his people should always keep the dream of the temple in their hearts?"

At the conclusion of the forceful and inspiring sermon, "O Paradise" was sung by those in attendance, all standing, the benediction was pronounced by Mr. Denney and the school chorus sang, "O God, Beneath The Guiding Hand" as a recessional, closing the service of the day.

When Did You Change Oil?

Always change your oil at from 500 to 700 miles. The best oil always shows the most engine power. Shows it at low speed or high speed. As much as 10 to 50 per cent more power equal to steep hill climbing or slow pulling in heavy city traffic.

Prove it yourself. Drain your crankcase, and fill it up with "VEEDOL" Oil, and you will change your point of view toward motor oil. You will think of it in terms of power.

Many cheap oils are on the market for sale. They produce less mileage, less power, high garage bills, and discouragement. Avoid all this by demanding "VEEDOL" Oil and make sure that you get it.

"VEEDOL" Oil and "TYDOL" Gasoline will produce greater mileage, more power, more comfort and greater economy.

What Attention to Give the Transmission Gears and Rear Axle

Among the last of the units on your car that require attention at the beginning of the touring season, are the gears in the transmission case and rear axle. Fortunately these parts rarely give any trouble and require attention only about once every 2,000 or 3,000 miles, that is, if the gear box and rear axle casings are oil tight. If these are leaking, then they will require attention much oftener.

Generally at the beginning of the cold weather, the wise motorist drains off the heavy oil he has been using in these units during the summer, and replaces it with a much lighter oil for the colder weather. If heavy oil is used in cold weather it becomes very stiff and thick and absorbs quite a large amount of power and at the same time makes gear changing a little difficult. For the summer you need to use a fairly heavy oil to cushion the gears, so that the first thing to do is to drain out the old oil from both gear case and rear axle, and replace it with the proper grade of lubricant for the summer.

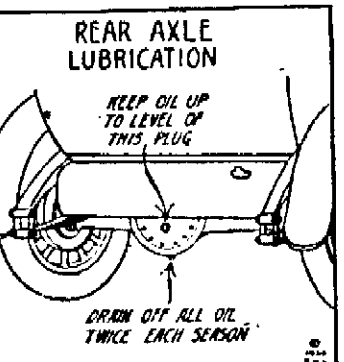

First remove the drain plug you will find at the bottom of the gear box and drain off all the old oil, then replace the plug and pour in about a quart of kerosene. Take a good stiff brush and remove all the old oil from the face of the gears, etc., then drain off. If you have noticed any noise in the gear box, now is the time to find out what is wrong. Carefully examine the teeth on the gear wheels to see that none are broken or chipped, and at the same time feel if there is any play in the bearings of either the main or the lay shaft. If the bearings of these shafts are worn badly, the lubricant will leak out of the gear box and the gears will soon become very noisy.

If, however, all gear teeth and bushings are in good shape, then fill up with fresh oil. If possible consult the instruction book you receive with your car to see what kind of oil to use and what height to keep it in the gear box. This is usually up to about the level of the lay shaft. When the gears are revolving they throw up enough oil to lubricate the gears and main shaft bearings. Do not on any account fill the gear box to top with lubricant.

It is a good idea while you have the kerosene handy and are on the job, to scrape off all the old dirty gummy grease from the sides of the gear box, then try all bolts to see that they are tight and that there are no oil leaks.

The Rear Axle gears require about the same attention as those in the Gear box. Drain off all the old oil and fill up with fresh oil to the level of the top plug. Be very careful not to put too much oil in the back axle or you will have trouble with it working out along the axle shafts and so on to the brakes and wheels. Fully 50% of all back axle and gear box replacements are caused by the carelessness of the owner in letting the oil in these units get too low or in using the wrong kind of lubricant. If you use an oil that is too heavy, the gears track in it and when the car is going at any speed very little oil reaches the bearings and gears. The result is that these bearings and gears are not properly lubricated and run hot then wear commences and before you know where you are, you have an expensive repair bill to pay. Consult the service manager of the service station for the car you drive. He will be glad to tell you the best grade of lubricant to use and how high to keep it in the gear box and rear axle. Follow his advice and you will find that your car will run quieter and better and replacements in these units will not be required until the car has run at least 20,000 miles and perhaps even more.

A slow leak in the tire valve plunger can be sometimes checked by applying a drop of oil in the valve stem. The oil partly dissolves the rubber, and causes it to anneal itself to an airtight joint.

Water which comes from a chalky district should not be used in the water circulation system because this results in deposits in the pipe and radiator. Distilled or well filtered water should be used.
